- Axis has the MAN infrastructure which has the following benefits:
 1. Offers no speed restrictions up to IGB
 2. Always on connection guaranteed (If the MANS went down you have redundancy available through DSC) reliably is secure. The cost of connection to the mains is €30/40k but Axis is already connected!
- For example Gene Medix have a satellite unit in Axis. The connection needed to be a full 100mb as all the services are located in the main office.
- This would not be possible without the MANS as a lease line for a private circuit would have been prohibited both ends are connected with CISCO 2600 series routers securing the connection
- Magnet carried out the connection to FOC due to the contract they signed
- Where an estate hasn't got a connection to the mains costs for direct connections are running at €30/40k
